

Clayton Chandler

Chief Data and Analytics Officer

As the Chief Data and Analytics Officer at Osaic, one of the nation's largest providers of wealth management solutions, Clayton is accountable for leading Osaic's consumption, production and governance of data for its financial professionals and clients. He is accountable for Osaic's data strategy and driving innovation in the use of data across the organization, including Artificial Intelligence.

Career Summary

Prior to joining Osaic in 2021, served as the Global Head of Cybersecurity and Americas Chief Information Security Officer at Credit Suisse. In this role Clayton was accountable for Credit Suisse's cybersecurity operations and technology globally. Before joining Credit Suisse in 2014, Clayton served as Technical Director of High Performance Data Analysis at the U.S. National Security Agency, where he led the design, implementation and operations of large-scale data analytics supporting various NSA missions. His earlier career experience is in various roles across the U.S. National Laboratory space, including Los Alamos and Oak Ridge.

Clayton has earned a Ph.D. in Computational Analysis and Modeling from Louisiana Tech University. He is a long-time board member for multiple charitable organizations in the Washington, DC and New York City metropolitan areas.

Securities and investment advisory services are offered through the firms: Osaic Wealth, Inc. and Osaic Institutions, Inc., broker-dealers, registered investment advisers, and members of FINRA and SIPC. Securities are offered through Ladenburg Thalmann & Co., broker-dealer and member of FINRA and SIPC. Advisory services are offered through Ladenburg Thalmann Asset Management, Inc., and Osaic Advisory Services, LLC., registered investment advisers. Advisory programs offered by Osaic Wealth, Inc. are sponsored by VISION2020 Wealth Management Corp., an affiliated registered investment adviser.